According to reports made at the officer of the central relief committee and the police stations, no decrease is shown in the numbers of persons who are dependent upon public charity to keep body and soul together. The applicants are even more numerous than ever, although the supply is getting short. At the headquarters of there was a limited supply of both clothing and food. It was stated that the wagons of Messrs. Woodward and Lothrop would go out during the afternoon and tomorrow jected, to the great satisfaction of the morning and gather up donations as the canvassers in some of the districts, it was stated, had not finished their work. The thing perfect. The costumes are gorgeous, the Chinese songs and dances clever and amusing and the whole action is replete with life and movement. Unable to get seats in the orchestra, Mrs. Bissell, like a number of other ladies who desired to take large parties, have done the next best thing and bought them in the circle and balcony, so that people of official and social prominence will be found all over the house.

Miss Corinne Blackburn is going aboad in April to spend a year in travel, and will remain for the early part of her stay with relatives in Dresden.

Mrs. Bishell, like a flour received by the committee is put up in tweive-pound sacks now, and given out in this way, so that the distribution will go to make many families happy, instead of a few, which would be the result of giving out the unbroken packages received. Saturday the crowd of applicants was much larger than usual, and at times it was almost impossible to reach the door leading to the headquarters of the committee. It was thought that this room would be closed before now, but the numerous applicants and the generosity of the citizens will not permit the committee to close its business permit the committee to close its business there. The police and the Associated Chari-ties are still engaged in the work of dis-tributing most of the donations, most of the applicants going to the police station. This is, perhaps, for the reason that the stations breakfast given the poor by the Central Union Mission, and 317 persons responded. "And they enjoyed the hot meal," said the cook this morning, "for all the plates came back empty." Many of the guests were strangers in the city and they were all invited to services as soon as they fin-ished breakfast. Mr. Muncaster had charge ished breakfast. Air. Nearly two hundred of the men attended services at Wesley Chapel in a body. Other Stopping Places.

While men are sawing wood at the mission for their meals and lodgings the municipal lodging house is not being slighted. Three nights is the time allowed guests at each of these institutions, and very few of the guests leave until they have worn out their welcome at both places. The class of men known as "bum tramps," who do all the begging, have made themselves scarce along the business streets since the police commenced to arrest them, so that now they either go right through the city or content themselves with a stop at some authorized lodging place other than the police stations.

There has been a great amount of sickness among the pear this winter, and in ness among the poor this winter, and in addition to the hundreds of visits made addition to the hundreds of visits made by the physicians to the poor, most of the poor wards in the hospitals have been kept nearly filled. During the past few days Sanitary Officer Frank has sent to the different hospitals an average of about eight persons each day. The afternoon session was enlivened by a discussion on the subject of bonding the officers of the order in regular security companies. Heretofore it has been customary to insist upon this, but this year several members thought the expense incident to such bonding could be saved by the acceptance of private bonds with proper and sufficient indorsements. After a thorough discussion of the subject, a motion was put abolishing the present system of bonding, but the motion was lost. It was decided that such lodges as had failed to pay the assessment levied by the Supreme Lodge should hereafter be denied representation in the Grand Lodge. Upon motion it was ordered that the secretary should open his books for examination by the auditing committee before

Yesterday morning the police received many applications for assistance, the result of the continued cold spell, and this morning the applicants were more numerous than ever. Many of those who depend on the dumps for fuel were in need of wood and coal because the ash heaps were covered with snow, and some of them also wanted food. THE RED FLAG IS FLYING.

The people have always been our friends, and shall not be deceived, if we can help it. HEED THE WARNING

LITTLE LIVER PILLS are being offered, and i our duty to raise the "danger signal." You cannot be too careful; you cannot scrutinize be careless; see that you get "C-A-R-T-E-R-'-S." Don't Refuse all others; take nothing but the genuine CAB-TER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. A POSITIVE CURE FOR SICK HEADACHE.
